Lochsloy Farmstay

Koromiko House is the original farmhouse. It was built during the mid nineteenth century, but has been completely modernised, with a new kitchen, log burner and twin bathrooms, one with claw foot bath. Its view is down Lake Forsythe (Wairewa).

The home retains much of the atmosphere that a nineteenth century farmhouse might have had, but has been completely renovated to provide every modern amenity - showers, log burner, claw foot bath, new kitchen with range, hob and dishwasher and wireless internet

Snowberry is a home in miniature. It features a loft bed, with a lounging area beneath. The bathroom and kitchen are new, containing a microwave oven, cooking utensils, toaster, kettle, etc., and an inbuilt washing machine. Heating is electric, and the queen-sized bed has an electric blanket.

Please note that the pictures of the accommodation are of Koromiko House, not Snowberry cottage.
